

UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH
Hesselbein
GLOBAL ACADEMY
For Student Leadership & Civic Engagement

Summer 2020 Virtual Workshops

July 14–16

Open to all Hesselbein Global Academy
Alumni and friends.

There is no cost to participate, however advanced registration is required.

Register now
pi.tt/Hesselbein2020

Featuring:

Bringing About Social Change The Issue of Protest: Non-Violent vs Violent

with Mr. Tony Fountain

Tuesday, July 14, 2020 from 1–2:30 p.m. EDT

Using the 1969 Computer Center Takeover at the University of Pittsburgh as a reference, participants will learn from historical and current perspectives in this panel discussion moderated by Tony about the protest movements which have brought about positive social change. Panelists include Academy alumni: René LaPointe Jameson (2019), Sheham Saif (2017), Amy Gilmore (2015), Allen Christopher Williams (2017), Bryan Matthew (2019), and Daniel Lampmann (2016).

Critical Thinking

with Ms. Donna Sanft

Wednesday, July 15, 2020 from noon–1 p.m. EDT

We all have become distracted with the current stressful climate, and yet important decisions need to be made during this time of crisis. Intentional critical thinking is even more important now than ever. Through real life examples from Academy alumni, participants will learn about critical thinking strategies to implement for current projects or challenges they may be facing. Panelists include Academy alumni: Andin Fosam (2017), Tania Cerón (2018), Jarret Schlaff (2010), and Jess Scott (2019).

Book Discussion: The Goal by Eliyahu Goldratt

with Major General Randy Fullhart

Thursday, July 16, 2020 from 10–11 a.m. EDT

The Theory of Constraints, outlined in The Goal, can be applied to a wide variety of scenarios including business, government, social and societal. This interactive discussion will illuminate this theory as an illustration of thinking processes for today's leaders. Participants should acquire and read the book in its entirety prior to this discussion.

UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH
Hesselbein
GLOBAL ACADEMY
For Student Leadership & Civic Engagement

Summer 2020 Virtual Workshops

Bringing About Social Change The Issue of Protest: Non-Violent vs Violent

with Mr. Tony Fountain

Tuesday, July 14, 2020

1–2:30 p.m. EDT

The act of protest as a form of social activism is a timely topic in today's world. Using the 1969 Computer Center Takeover at the University of Pittsburgh as a reference, participants will learn from historical and current perspectives in this panel discussion moderated by Tony about the protest movements which have brought about positive social change.

Panelists include Academy alumni: René LaPointe Jameson (2019), Sheham Saif (2017), Amy Gilmore (2015), Allen Christopher Williams (2017), Bryan Matthew (2019), and Daniel Lampmann (2016).

Register now!

pi.tt/Hesselbein2020

UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH
Hesselbein
GLOBAL ACADEMY
For Student Leadership & Civic Engagement

Summer 2020 Virtual Workshops

Critical Thinking

with Ms. Donna Sanft

Wednesday, July 15, 2020

Noon–1p.m. EDT

We all have become distracted with the current stressful climate, and yet important decisions need to be made during this time of crisis. Intentional critical thinking is even more important now than ever. Through real life examples from Academy alumni, participants will learn about critical thinking strategies to implement for current projects or challenges they may be facing.

Panelists include Academy alumni: Andin Fosam (2017), Tania Cerón (2018), Jarret Schlaff (2010), and Jess Scott (2019).

Register now!

pi.tt/Hesselbein2020

UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH
Hesselbein
GLOBAL ACADEMY
For Student Leadership & Civic Engagement

Summer 2020 Virtual Workshops

Book Discussion: The Goal by Eliyahu Goldratt

with Major General Randy Fullhart

Thursday, July 16, 2020

10–11 a.m. EDT

The Theory of Constraints, outlined in The Goal, can be applied to a wide variety of scenarios including business, government, social and societal. This interactive discussion will illuminate this theory as an illustration of thinking processes for today's leaders. Participants should acquire and read the book in its entirety prior to this discussion.

Register now!

pi.tt/Hesselbein2020